13 Desert Area Items to Face County Planners

The Riverside County Planning Commission lists 13 desert area items on the agenda for its special adjourned meeting scheduled for 10 a.m. Tuesday, in Riverside at the county courthouse.

Three public hearings, consideration of at least four subdivisions and discussion of arrangements for the commission's March 15 meeting in the Coachella Valley are top agenda subjects.

Hearings concern Jack M. Silverman's request for zone change from R-1 to C-P in the Cathedral City-Palm Desert district, centered around San Luis Rey Plaza area of Palm Springs Country Club Estates.

Other hearings involve a Desert Hot Springs trailer park addition and a Shavers Summit area auto wrecking yard.

Subdivision maps up for consideration are those of Treasure Palms Estates, in the Tamarisk Country Club area; Sunair Tracts No. 5 and No. 6, Cathedral City area; and Palm Desert Estates, Unit Two.

Clerks and mail carriers are sought to fill vacancies in the Palm Springs Post Office, Postmaster Merritt Williams said today.

Because not enough residents of Palm Springs are on current lists, these positions have been opened up to persons who reside outside of Palm Springs. Applications are sought from residents of Beaumont, Banning, Hemet, Coachella and Indio.

To speed up hiring, written tests are held frequently. Applicants may mail or give applications to Mr. Messenger, Examiner-in-Charge at Indio, and will receive slips admitting them to the written test.

Entrance pay for clerk-carriers is $1.82 an hour. As employees in the Federal career service, they receive automatic pay increases with satisfactory service, and have benefits of a retirement, government insurance, and generous vacation and sick leave plan.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Ethel Haywood at the Palm Springs Post Office.

County Growth Pattern Told

Predictions of accelerated growth for Riverside County were made before the Riverside County Escrow Association by Rancho Mirage Realtor Ted Smith.

Smith, who is also regional vice president of the California Real Estate Association, Indio Realtor Lloyd Loveland, an association director, and Escrow Association President Wilma Wilson addressed members of the group at its monthly meeting in Beaumont this week.

Record Weekend Crowd, 60,000, Taxes Facilities

Palm Springs was virtually bursting at the seams this morning as a near-record flood of an estimated 60,000 weekend visitors poured into the city, immediately filling all available living space in hotels, apartments and even some private homes.

The overflow spilled into neighboring Desert Hot Springs, Cathedral City, Rancho Mirage, and Palm Desert, and even backwatered as far as Beaumont, when hurried reservation clerks were no longer able to meet the demands of tourists clamoring for reservations.

APPROXIMATELY lured by a combination of a three-day holiday weekend and Indio's National Date Festival, visitors to the resort city continued to arrive today in every possible means of conveyance despite a 21 inch rainfall logged at 8 a.m. today.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Jimmy Cooper estimated the weekend visitor population at about 60,000. The city is capable of housing 45,000 guests, he said.

Cooper's estimate, however, was considered as being conservative.

Cold, Snow, Rain Blanket Nation

A cold front that sported sub-zero temperatures and snow flurries churned into the northeastern section of the nation today.

The arctic air sent snow dancing across the northern tier of states from Washington, New York, and kept mercury readings below zero in the Northern Plains. Reports as far south as northern Texas reported early morning readings of below-freezing temperatures.

Rain splattered over much of the rest of the nation today. Showers were expected over the Pacific Coast and Great Basin area, and a belt of rain and freezing drizzle mixed with snow sloped over an area that extended from the plains to the Appalachians. Wet weather was also forecast for parts of New York and Florida.

The department notified Cal-electric company, who handled the matter.

Sewer Bond Ad Valorem Tax Drops Four Cents to 24, Due to Better Bond Market

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles which will be published by The Desert Sun on the $3,850,000 Sewer Bond election, scheduled to come before the voters on March 19.)

By FRED C. WEIGEL

The firm of J. B. Hanauer and Company, which was in charge of the financial study for the sanitation project of the City of Palm Springs, revealed this week that with the improvement of the bond market, the ad valorem tax to be levied if the sewer bond election is successful will be dropped from the originally proposed 28 cents per $100 assessed valuation, to 24 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Financing a $3,850,000 Sewer Bond election is a big task, and constantly in mind during the preparation of the report has been the equalizing of payment of the

Kemper Officials To Meet Here For 12th Year

Executives of the Kemper Insurance companies will meet for the twelfth consecutive year at Palm Springs from Feb. 25 through March 6.

Thirty-two executives of Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Company and American Motorists Insurance Company from all over the U.S. and Canada will attend daily sessions at El Mirador.

THE DELEGATION from the companies' Chicago home office is headed by chairman James S. Kemper and President Hathaway G. Kemper, both of whom are Palm Springs home owners.

Other Chicago executives who will attend include Paul Brown, R. M. Dewey, N. C. Flanagan, J. E. Helgren, M. S. Hughey, W. D. Keeler, H. A. Lansman, Joseph E. Magnus, R. C. Merritt, T. L. Osborn Jr., R. P. Palmer, Royce G. Rowe, L. F. Sorenson, M. B. Weber, B. Stuart Weyforth and W. R. White Jr.

BRANCH OFFICE executives in attendance will be G. M. Butters, Syracuse; B. C. Dahlmann, Decatur, Ill.; Valentine Dawson, New York City; W. H. Heineke and Lee W. Taylor, Summit, N. J.; E. A. Hook, Dallas; M. P. Luthy, Boston; F. W. Hagen, Atlanta; G. R. Pahlman, Los Angeles; E. J. Pinholster, New Orleans; M. D. Rodgers, San Francisco; and D. A. Walters, Columbus, Ohio.

James S. Kemper Jr., Los Angeles attorney, will represent directors of the Kemper companies at the meetings.

Second Runaway Missile Reported

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. — The Air Force has disclosed that a second Matador missile went out of control last month and was destroyed in flight.

The victims along with a fourth boy, Billy Hushman, 11 set out shortly before noon to dig the cave with shovels near a partially built underpass for the freeway. Billy was spared death when he went home to get another shovel.

Annexation Of New Land Started Here

County Boundary Group Approves Proposed Lines

For the second time in three years, Palm Springs is on the way towards acquisition of new territory through annexation.

First steps in annexation proceedings of a one-square-mile segment of land on the southeast side of the city were completed this week with approval of proposed boundaries by the county boundary commission.

CITY ATTORNEY Jerry Bunker said today that next step is presentation of the annexation plan to the City Council, which passes it on to the City Planning Commission.

Divided by Highway 111, the section forms the southeast approach to Palm Springs. It is owned by the Agua Caliente Mission Indians and individual tribal members, most of whom have signified approval of the plan.

BUNKER SAID 31 registered voters live in a trailer court on the property. Annexation must be approved by a majority of the voters and property owners.

The matter will eventually come up for council hearing and an annexation election, Bunker said. The election is scheduled when proponent petitions, carrying signatures of 25 per cent of the registered voters, is filed with the city.

ANNEXATION of the area has the unofficial sanction of city officials who feel that extension of the city limits would prevent indiscriminate developments in an area so close to the resort.

The plan was initiated by the planning commission, with a view towards orderly and attractive developments, officials said.

In the last annexation, dated 1954, the city took over 15½ square miles to the northwest.

Three Youths Die In Dirt Cave-In At Road Project

ANAHEIM, Calif. — Three boys enjoying a school holiday met death Friday when a cave they were playfully digging in an embankment collapsed and entombed them under tons of dirt in a freeway construction project.

The cramped bodies of William David Barron, 7, Steven Wayne Jones, 10, and Larry Joseph Scherer, 13, all of Anaheim, were found at the bottom of the embankment.

The victims along with a fourth boy, Billy Hushman, 11 set out shortly before noon to dig the cave with shovels near a partially built underpass for the freeway. Billy was spared death when he went home to get another shovel.

Heavy Rain Pounds LA, Washes Away Vehicles

Intersections Flooded to 5-Foot Depth

Four Killed In Car-Bus Freeway Crash

LOS ANGELES — Heavy rain fell in the Los Angeles area today, washing away parked cars, flooding some intersections to a depth of five feet and carrying boulders, dirt and other debris onto main streets.

Hardest hit area apparently was West Los Angeles, where basements were flooded and rainwater swept parked cars out into streets. Some cars were reported under water in the Hollywood area, where flooding halted freeway traffic.

POLICE SAID THE approximately one inch of rainfall was rushing along one street "at 20 knots." One canyon road leading to San Fernando Valley was closed because of boulders. Water in the valley was reported several feet deep in some places.

Mudslides blocked some hillside roads. There were slides in the burned-out Malibu area, but sheriff's deputies said the freshly seeded hills seemed to be absorbing the water. There was no immediate flood threat in the area burned by a Christmas holiday fire.

THE RAIN CAUSED many traffic accidents. The worst was in nearby Long Beach, where four persons were killed when their car skidded into a bus.

The dead, all in the car, were identified as Robert G. Jensen, 20, Long Beach; Patricia L. Read, 17, Downey, Calif.; Richard G. Moore, 18, Downey, and an unidentified teenage girl.

OFFICERS SAID the bus, carrying 25 passengers, collided with Jensen's car on the Pacific Coast Highway at the San Gabriel River Bridge. They said the vehicles were practically welded together by the crash.

The injured included bus driver Jean Moreno, 28, of Long Beach; Marion Clark, 72, Newport Beach, Calif., and three Marines who suffered superficial skin lacerations.

Mrs. Clark was hospitalized with head injuries at Long Beach Community Hospital.

Supervisors to Hear Land Offer for Sheriff's Office

Plans for a Cathedral City sheriff's sub-station will be revived Monday when the County Board of Supervisors considers an offer of land for the law enforcement agency.

The board will discuss a letter from Samuel D. Arner offering Cathedral City property as a site for the sub-station.

The station was previously requested by desert area residents, but Riverside County Sheriff Joe Rice nullified the idea earlier this week with the statement that he didn't think the sub-unit was needed.

ALSO LISTED ON the board's Monday agenda are nine other desert area matters, including a petition by the Indio Sanitary District for annexation of contiguous territory.

Three items pertaining to Indio will involve consideration of acceptance of a grant deed by Indio.

Reds Boast Of Bombs More Powerful Than 'H'

MOSCOW — The Soviet Army newspaper Red Star said today that if a new world war breaks out, atomic, hydrogen "or even more powerful bombs could fall on the American continent."

The article was written by Marshal K. C. Moskalenko in commemoration of Soviet Armed Forces Day.

"In case of American aggression with atomic or hydrogen bombs, similar or even more powerful bombs could fall on the American continent which has been untouched in past wars," he wrote.

Man Shoots Arm Off To Save Life

BRISBANE, Australia — Cattleman Charles Williams shot part of his arm off today when a poisonous tiger snake bit him and he could not find a knife to slash open the wound.

Late News Bulletins

NEWMARKET, Ont. UP — Three persons, one of them an eight-year-old boy, were reported killed today when a bus crashed into a truck north of Toronto.

COVINA UP — A 12-year-old boy was rescued by an unidentified man today when a cave-in occurred as he dug a cave in rain-loosened earth.

PARIS UP — Premier Guy Mollet will voice strong support for Israel in its dispute with Egypt when he flies to Washington tomorrow for talks with President Eisenhower, informed sources said today.

Gas Company Allots $40,000 to CC

Improvements to the Southern California Gas Co.'s Cathedral City Base were announced today by Eastern Division Manager William P. Hand, and will cost $40,000. The figures were released at the same time as the company announced that a budget of $3,657,000 has been allotted by the utility to handle capital expenditures in its Eastern Division.

The largest expenditure in the Eastern Division, approximately $1,983,000, will be used to bring gas service to some 11,000 new customers expected to be added in the division during the year. Of this amount, $984,000 will be spent to extend main pipelines, and $916,000 will be needed to install service lines to these customers. Connecting new customers to the service lines will cost $83,000. Quarries of whetstones are located in Garland and Hot Spring Counties, in Arkansas.

De Luxe Park

It is said Washington couldn't tell a lie, and neither can we say De Luxe can always find an excuse for another party.

Adopting Washington's birthday as the theme, and the introduction of De Luxe new office manager and hostess, Marian Walker, one of the largest and gayest events of the season was the impromptu Barbecue Party Tuesday night, which was attended by approximately 250 guests.

MRS. WALKER, whose background has especially fitted her for this type of work, spoke with warmth and sincerity of the work she has undertaken as office manager and hostess of De Luxe, emanating a feeling of friendliness and hospitality. And the capicity crowd at this, her first party, gave evidence of the full cooperation of all De Luxe residents.

Lynis Nelson, known as the "Barbecue King," in white cap and butcher's apron, together with his committee, again proved his culinary art in deftly serving everyone with thick, juicy hamburgers, hot baked potatoes, tossed salads, desert and coffee. Mae Houston, of De Luxe's Coffee Shop, toasted the buns and made coffee.

THE TABLES, strewned in patriotic colors, augmented with the traditional hatchet and cherry tree, on bases of yellow pansies, was a conversational idea for all the guests.

Medora and Jack Hyett, known for their ability in spotting good talent in the park, arranged a program of entertainment that was both spicy and beautiful. The spice was provided by Jack and his humorous stories. The beauty was the music of the lovely girls quartet, and the chimes of the Kirkpatrick's—not forgetting the two squares danced by the children of De Luxe, called by the children, "Juvenile Jumpers," and under the leadership of Iris Downs.

SEVERAL GUESTS from Sahara were introduced and welcomed to the dinner, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Porter Smith and Al Flynn.

Ladies serving on the committees were Hilda Lent, Regina Heath, Mabel Stewart, Gertrude Mellus, Doris and Jessie Harnden, Lou Laursen, Etta Heacock, Maude Campbell, Inez Olerud, Saada Beck, Ruth Brisbin, Mrs. Epperson, Minnie Hamilton, Elvira Evans, Dell Ferris, Medora Hyett, Gladys Jones, Ethel Nelson, Nona Ralph, Sue Stillwell, Evelyn Cox, Glada Kirkpatrick, Katherine Hallmark, Mrs. Jenner and Martha Dehney.

SERVING ON THE men's committee were: Lynis Nelson, Clyde Jones, Eric Ericson, Dr. Ervin Mellus, Dr. Dan Perry, Jack Hyett, Vic Laursen and Jean Harrison.

And special credit to "Red" Nelson for his capable help in arranging the many tables.

Mural Yarnell was accompanist for the group singing. Girls in the quartet were Glada Kirkpatrick, Lou Laursen, Ruth Brisbin and Katherine Hallmark.

NEXT TUESDAY night, Feb. 26, De Luxe will have a "Gay Nineties" Party, following the usual Potluck Dinner.

Rose and Ted Howisey of Seattle, Wash., are among the recent arrivals at De Luxe. Leonard and Janie Smith and daughters Sandra and Susan, are now permanent residents of De Luxe. Mr. Smith is employed in the engineering department of the City of Palm Springs.

JOHN AND MABEL Stewart of Bremerton, Wash., are occupying the Ostring's trailer until Mar. 1. Harry Hopkins will be the caller at the Friday night dances through the season. Invitations are extended to all other trailerists wearing identification badges.

Insulating and building materials were first made from sugarcane bagasse in 1920 in Louisiana.

Sahara Park

Friends from other parks joined with Sahara residents to celebrate St. Valentine's Day in the Club House, which was gaily decorated with red hearts, cupid with bows and arrows, and balloons. The evening began with a Grand March to the good music of the Strickland's Orchestra, and the big crowd stayed on and on until the last note of the last dance was played.

Six couples from Sahara and neighboring parks participated in a contest to see who could dance the length of the hall fastest, with a prize going to the winner. Ice cream, cake, candies and coffee were served at intermission. Credit for the success of this party-dance goes to Mrs. Gladys May and her assistant, Mrs. Midge Miller.

MRS. HELEN CHILD was honored with a surprise birthday luncheon at the Chi Chi on Monday, Feb. 18.

Guests included Mrs. Bess Dickey, friend of Mrs. Child visiting from Dayton, Ohio; Mrs. Delta Davis, Mrs. Vera Dickerman, Mrs. Alma Fischer, Mrs. Mabel Ericson, Mrs. Elnora Couch, Mrs. Olive Bartley, Mrs. Florence Blezard, Mrs. Marge Greiner, Mrs. Nella Westwood, Mrs. Ruth Miller, Mrs. Helen Sumpter, Mrs. Midge Miller, Mrs. Jessima Black, Mrs. Alice Bushnell, Mrs. Clair Anderson, who was accompanied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. O. M. Anderson, visiting from Moscow, Idaho, Mrs. Gladys May, Mrs. Edie Clark, Mrs. Beth Holt, Mrs. Frances Howard and Mrs. Georgia MacMillen.

VIEWERS WERE delighted with a two-evening session of color slides of Mrs. Bess Dickey's (guest of Mrs. Helen Child) tour of South Africa.

Ray Clarke was weighted down this week with two shuffleboard badges for winning the Men's Tournament on Monday and the Mixed Tournament on Wednesday.

Blue Skies Park

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Brewer have purchased Mrs. Betty Andrews' Spartan and have leased a second lot for "their Guest House trailer." The Brewers are from Indianola, Iowa.

An Italian spaghetti community dinner will be held tonight. Mrs. Caroline Ricono and her daughter, Beverly, are in charge of the menu.

The ladies of Blue Skies will hold an afternoon tea on Feb. 27 in the clubhouse.

MOVIES WERE held Saturday and Sunday night in the clubhouse. "The Father of the Bride" with Spencer Tracy, Elizabeth Taylor and Joan Bennett was shown on Saturday and "The Land of the Pharaohs" was shown on Sunday. The films were provided by Lew Kerner.

L. H. Strong is scheduled for several horse show events during the Riverside County Fair at Indio this week.

The Harry Caplans and the William Cowitts were down this past weekend after being among the missing at poolside for several weeks. They have had a very busy month at Paramount Pictures.

ALEXANDER CLITSOME celebrated his 75th Birthday by giving a gala cocktail party in the Blue Skies Club House on Feb. 20. All of his friends and neighbors residing in Blue Skies, his family, and many of his associates attended. Harold Tonne entertained with Jerry Barsch in charge of the bar.

Bea Heath celebrated her February birthday with a dinner at The Doll House.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Snyder of Los Angeles bought the Bill Cameron trailer and moved in at once.

LEN WILBUR, noted artist, today is realizing the benefits of a life-time ambition, the pleasure of painting. He is now a resident of De Luxe Trailer Park. (Desert Sun Photo).

Regrets Yes, But Wilbur Hits 'Pay-off' Later in Life

By VIRGINIA DAVIS

Len Wilbur, famed portrait and landscape artist, today commented, "The artist has his regrets and disappointments, same as a person in any other profession," adding, however, "the pay-off comes later in life."

Len was sketching—with remarkable resemblance—everyone and everything in sight, by the time he was six years old.

DURING HIS LAST year in high school, he says he was called upon to make one of the most important decisions of his life: To go to Europe for four years of training—on a scholarship—or to remain in New York with his family and friends.

Financing the education of talented young aspiring students in the arts, was the hobby of millionaire Thomas Mott Osborne, head of the International Harvester Company. He recognized Len's unusual talent and offered him a four year course of study with the great masters of Europe.

Len decided, "No," and instead entered Art School in New York and began the study of portraiture as his life's work. He completed a four year course and joined a group of four other artists in a studio in New York. He painted with this group for seven years, then decided to free lance in portraiture for the New York elite.

FOUR YEARS OF trying to please his sitters, who, he says, "never wanted an honest interpretation, but a false glamour. I felt I was a traitor to my art—the thing I loved best in all the world."

This was the time when he found something else he could love best. He found Marie. And he married her. "She has always been my inspiration and best critic," he says.

But ill health had come along with the disillusionment of his years as a free lance portraitist; ill health and trouble with his eyes—the strong lights in the studio, used to produce dramatic effects, had taken their toll. He says he was "confused and discouraged. Felt I never wanted to paint again."

MARIE HELPED him to decide what he did want. They came West, bought a small ranch and business in Reno, Nevada.

Eighteen years later he sold the business, and finally sold the ranch and retired. After six years of extensive travel, Len had a heart attack and was ordered by his doctor to come to the desert—to forget everything and relax. He bought a trailer and came to the De Luxe Trailer Park, where he and Marie have spent their winter seasons for the past five years. Summers they travel about the country, Len sketching, painting and fishing.

Heart Research Through Donations Shows Progress

Five hopeful facts about the heart and blood vessel diseases have developed as the result of heart research during recent years, Montague N. Herbert, 1957 Heart Fund Chairman, pointed out today in urging contributions in the current campaign.

In reviewing the Heart Association research, education and community service program as the 1957 Heart Fund entered its final period, Herbert listed these five facts as:

- "1. SOME FORMS OF heart disease can be prevented . . . a few can be cured;
- "2. All heart cases can be cared for best if diagnosed early;
- "3. Almost every heart condition can be helped by proper treatment;
- "4. Most heart patients can keep on working — often at the same job, and,
- "5. Your 'symptoms' may or may not mean heart disease. Don't guess—don't worry. See your doctor and be sure."

"THERE ARE MANY reasons for hopefulness about the heart diseases," Herbert continued. "Medical scientists have made great strides in improving methods of diagnosing the heart diseases and in helping to develop new drugs and surgical techniques. The use of antibiotics has almost wiped out syphilitic heart disease, and the same 'strep'-killing drugs can sharply reduce rheumatic fever, forerunner of rheumatic heart disease. They now can also cure 75 per cent of those stricken with bacterial infection of the heart, formerly almost 100 per cent fatal."

"TIGHT MONEY" RESULT OF STIMULATING GROWTH

For the first time in many years the growth of this country on all fronts has brought about a shortage of credit to meet the demands for new construction. This so-called "tight money" situation is a temporary condition and should be viewed with optimism on the part of real estate men.

These views were expressed last week by J. Mortimer Clark, president of the California Real Estate Association, who spoke before a large gathering of Palm Springs real estate men and women. Some concern has been shown in the profession over the situation. Clark takes the position that the stimulating growth of the nation's economy has given credit expansion temporary "growing pains" and that it is only a passing condition.

The present shortage of funds for financing is not the indication of a recession, Clark said, but rather to the unusual demand being made on money available for investment.

Like other rapidly growing areas, Palm Springs has been feeling the effect of "tight money" which has slowed down construction to some extent. Clark's appraisal of the situation gave real estate men here new assurances that progress will not be halted. After hearing the head of their State association, many were in agreement that the confidence shown by planned construction throughout the nation in business,

Industrial and home building fields is good reason for optimism rather than concern.

COMMERCIAL JET AGE WILL BOOM PALM SPRINGS

In less than three years commercial jet planes will be flying people from coast to coast in about five hours. Bringing this resort area just that much closer to eastern cities will be a great boon to Palm Springs. It isn't too early to start making plans for that day.

The most important improvement in transportation to Palm Springs will be realized when we get service direct from the east. If we get direct jet transport service it will cut the time from the east in half. And by that time the area should have grown to the point that such service would be profitable.

One thing greatly in our favor is that Palm Springs Airport—with but little change—will accommodate the new ships that take longer runways. In many cities the extension of runways will be a big problem.

Obtaining this direct service from the east, and needed improvements at the Airport, are matters that should be given attention right now. The time will come around pretty fast when easterners can have breakfast at home and lunch in Palm Springs. It takes only a little imagination to realize what an advantage this will be to this whole Desert Area.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

The Time of Man

WASHINGTON, D.C.—No signs are hung in the heavens when mankind passes from one historical phase to another. But it would be dangerous for American statesmen not to know the meaning of:

1. West Europe's proposed free-trade area of 230 million customers.
2. Great Britain's budding role as the most courted nation in the free world.
3. Moscow's apparent loss of control over the Communist party in the USA, and the dumping of Moscow-directed leaders.
4. Continuing proof in the Mediterranean World that Communism is not the only problem between nations.

WORLD EVENTS, such as these, are moving faster than we seem to know. The problems of yesterday—feeding West Europe, saving Britain from bankruptcy, combating a foreign agency in the guise of a domestic political party, denying the waste of Russia—are on the wane. Unless the Eisenhower Administration is more alert than it seems to be, we may get left in the lurch of history.

For instance, if West Europe should bring off an economic union of its half-dozen highly industrialized nations, plus Great Britain, we would face a most ironic situation. For this would be the same West Europe which we prevented from uniting under its own would-be military conquerors from 1914-45.

THERE IS NO reason to expect that a Federation of Socialist Republics and Kingdoms of Europe would be automatically friendly to the American colossus of capitalism. Two of the six European countries, Germany and Italy, fought us during recent wars in Europe.

A third country, France, fought the landings of General Eisenhower, himself, in North Africa as late as 1942. France is also dickering for a vast merger of the European-African community, already known by the trade name of Eurafica. She is trying to do what we prevented Germany from doing when Ike landed in Africa.

Great Britain, which has been on a roller coaster of ups and downs, instantly takes on a new importance in view of the West European and/or Eurafican coalition. The continental countries need Britain's 50 million consumers, her advanced technical skills, her superior ways of statecraft. It is plain today, and will grow plainer before next summer, that West Europe is ready to make attractive concessions, such as those pertaining to commonwealth preference, in order to lure Britain into this polygamous marriage of interests.

WHERE DO THE American interests lie? We will hardly be willing to fight another war to prevent Europe from uniting. In fact, we would have a good bargain if we could get the continental nations into a self-supporting buffer coalition between Russia and the New World. But Britain would be almost as important to us as she is to West Europe.

We could not lightly part with the great English-speaking traditions of literature, law, parliamentary systems and Christianity. But there is also a business tie-in which would be painful to sever. In 1956 we bought $662 million of goods from the United Kingdom, and we sent $1,144 million worth of exports to the United Kingdom.

BRITAIN'S BEST customer last year was Australia with $56 million a month; we were second with $55 million a month. Britain's biggest supplier (seller) was the USA with $95 million a month; Canada came second with $81 million a month.

Russia seems to have lost control of the Communist party in America at about the same time, and for the same reasons, that she lost control in Poland, France and Italy. The death of Stalin, and the revival of Stalinist methods in Hungary, have combined to put a halt, at least temporarily, to the Communist march toward world domination.

CONSIDER THIS loss of Communist momentum along with the rise of Mideast nationalism, both Arabian and Israeli, and one conclusion becomes inescapable. It is this: the time may come when the USA and the USSR will no longer be the only great powers on earth. We now have two ancient races in the Mideast and neither is going to vamoose for the other. We now have a Russia, and also a China, which have temporarily ceased outward expansion and are turning their enormous energies to internal industrialization. We now have a Eurafican economic union in the making, bigger than either the USA or the USSR.

The question is—do we have, with our obsolescent tangle of military alliances and economic transferences, a policy that takes any account of these galloping changes? Do we know what's happening? Or only what happened the last time we looked?

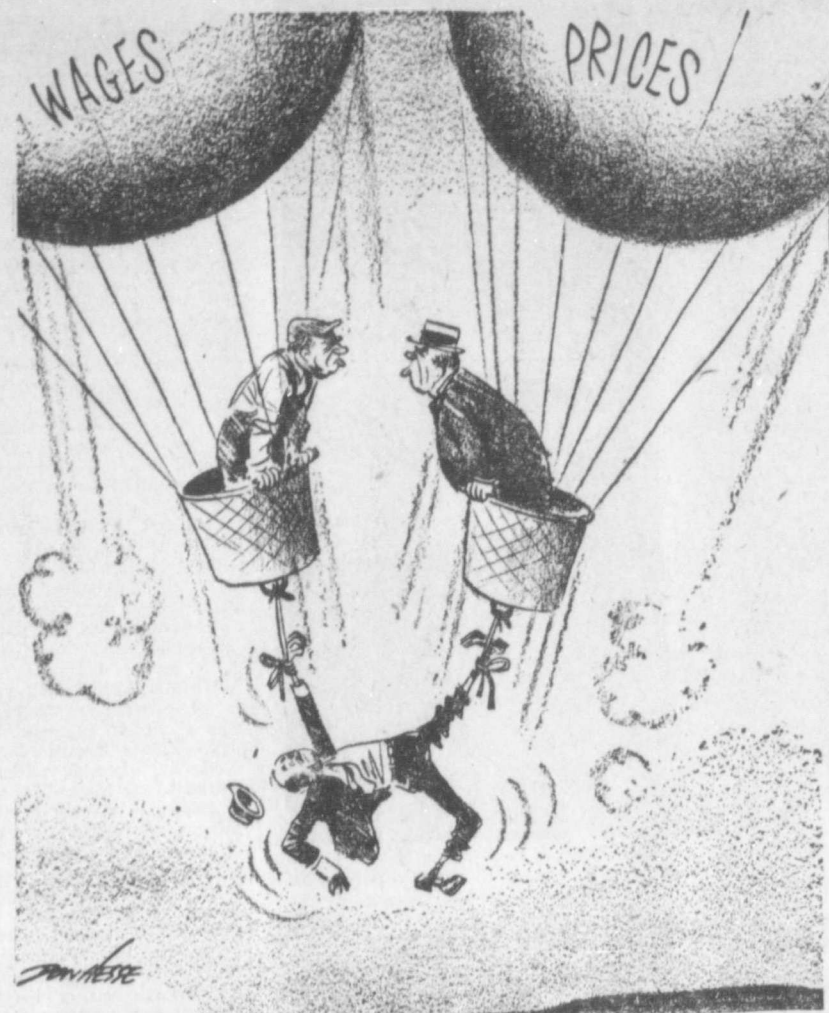

tained for distinguished guests—who would be even more flattered if they were house guests of the Vice President. Real nice house, too.

There's been a postponement of the meeting of the central committee of the Soviet Communist Party. An obvious reason: too many Communists talking on a party line.

Nothing Like the Good Old American Way of Life

THIS SIDE of The Sun By Phat

The Museum needs help And that's no myth. But we don't need 'gators Says Dr. Smith.

Don't say I didn't warn you. Last September when a well-known Villager, whose name I will not mention, brought home some small miniature Guatemalan alligators as gifts for his friends here. I wrote here:

"Won't it be great if someone finds one of these 'gators adjacent to a swimming pool and the metropolitan newspapers run a box-car headline: 'Alligator Chases Tourists in Palm Springs!'"

SO I PICK UP my favorite newspaper the other night and right there on the front page of The Desert Sun is a picture of the meanest-looking reptile I've seen outside of the wailing wall at Santa Anita.

And what did they do with it? Just like every time someone finds some odd creature—look it to Doc C. E. Smith of the Desert Museum.

He has to classify them along with telling people that there are no groundhogs in Palm Springs and that a rattlesnake won't bite you unless you attempt to bite it first.

AT THE RISK of having the good Dr. Smith say that he has been misquoted, I will say that, after receiving the alligator, he said:

"I've seen plenty of Flora and Fauna, But Alligators, Gosh, I don't wanna."

BOB LINSKEY brought me several clippings from the Cincinnati Times-Star in which Palm Springs received considerable boost.

Joseph Garretson, Times-Star columnist who writes that paper's "Town Crier" column had been on a vacation in Palm Springs—and for three straight days, Cincinnatians read about Palm Springs. Because here is where he spent almost three weeks of rest and relaxation.

GARRETSON WROTE that he spent three days in Las Vegas and 16 days in Palm Springs. "Palm Springs was much more pleasant and kinder—physically and financially—I left Palm Springs with a tan and reasonably solvent. I left Las Vegas with the worst cold I've had in years and the flattest pocketbook you ever saw," he wrote.

Garretson really must have fallen in love with Palm Springs. For three columns in a row, he compares it very favorably with Miami, Phoenix, Tucson and other winter resorts.

Jimmy Cooper of the Chamber of Commerce really should have a special medal struck off for him.

PALM SPRINGS is full of good eating spots, he says, and he gives special attention to the Dunes, "owned and operated by a former Cincinnati girl and her husband."

Of Connie, he wrote: "Ruby's wife, whose professional name is Connie Barleau, used to be a well-known singer in Cincinnati. She looks like a million dollars and is still in fine voice." A very smart columnist.

INEZ ROBB:

Questions, Anybody?

Pick up any magazine aimed at the woman reader, and one thing is certain: If you don't have a neurosis at the moment of contact, you will have by the time you finish leafing through the literary hors d'oeuvres.

The editorial content of such publications today is a direct steal from the old "real confessions" which, in my salad days, nice people simply did not allow in their homes.

NOWADAYS THE slick magazines with the four-color processes all hire resident doctors and house psychiatrists who grub among the readers' physical and mental ailments, without—of course—ever seeing a reader.

There is nothing like a quiet evening at home, curled up with a good magazine, while a psychiatrist explains in 10,000 easy words, "How to Put the Lid on the Id" and the house doc, writing in detail, "How to Reduce Till the Girdle's Loose" or "Take Care of Your Kidney, Sidney!"

THEN THERE is that perpetual, "Real Confessions" feature, "Will This Marriage Last?" Despite the tampering of the magazine jury, it always seems highly unlikely to me, in view of the fact that the two persons involved wouldn't know enough to come in out of a repeat of the Johnstown Flood, much less the rain.

However, what started me on the above philosophic diagnosis is another feature of the modern magazine that consists solely of a questionnaire, usually 20 questions.

THE READER OR victim in this do-it-yourself personality diagnosis or analysis has only to answer the questions and tote up the score to determine whether he/she is a satisfactory spouse, parent, offspring, baby-sitter, gamesman, friend, auto driver, executive, leader, doctor, lawyer, merchant, chief. This pseudo-scientific jargon guarantees better results than tea leaves or a gypsy.

Of course, the feller, like myself, who always gets a negative score doesn't kill himself; he just turns to the monthly feature, written in quasi-religious terms, "How to Live With Yourself, Whether You Like It or Not."

ANYWAY, I RAN across one of these questionnaires the other day that began "What Does the Gardner Do in Winter?" Well, sir, I can answer this one without even reading the other 19 questions. What this gardener does in winter is just set and rest herself.

The winter, for this gardener, is a splendid period of repair, in which she tries to get the dirt out from under her fingernails and the hunk out of her sacroiliac. As the poet said, "A garden is a lovesome thing. God wot!" and I have a hunch he first said it in the dead of winter. A garden is never so lovesome as in retrospect or prospect, when the back has healed and the nails are pristine.

AS A REALIST, I know that there are no fairies at the bottom of my garden, as another poet once wrote. If there were, I feel confident they'd do the weeding. And, goodness knows, no one lays a hand on a weed around our manse except little ol' me.

Yet, it is impossible to be both a gardener and a pessimist. A gardener is possessed of faith that passeth understanding and a firm belief in miracles. So if you must know what a gardener does in winter, I'll tell you; he spends that blessed interval putting gimp in his faith!

Have always heard that the softest touch for any racket is a racketeer. They fall more quickly for a gimmick than a darn fool, the kind of fools they usually "take" for all their worth.

It is also well known that many a wise man who can smell a rotten deal a block away has also succumbed to the wiles of some fast talker and parted with both confidence and money. Proof of both cases may be found on police records across the country. Newspapermen on "beats" in metropolitan areas especially around court rooms and police stations know this to be a fact.

JUST ABOUT A year ago a plumber moved into this town with a lot of simulated flair and fast talk. To have listened to this man talk one would have believed that butter would not melt in his mouth. As a plumbing contractor he outbid every reputable plumber who had been doing business in this town for years.

Now that isn't possible. One must make a profit if the business is to succeed. Eventually the lack of, or scanty profit caught up with this fine gentleman and he quickly disappeared from the local scene.

BEHIND HIM HE left plenty of trouble. He purchased thousands of dollars of supplies from one of the biggest wholesale plumbing concerns in Palm Springs and placed what he bought into the jobs about the town. Some of these jobs were, and some are still large in scale running into thousands of dollars.

Once plumbing fixtures are placed in a building, pipe in the ground and covered with cement and mortar, it's there for good. There was only one way the wholesale plumbing company could regain a portion of its losses and that was to place liens against these jobs.

EARL WILSON:

How About Fried Grasshoppers

NEW YORK — I was having lunch with Glenn Ford and as usual at that hour, I wasn't hungry and dawdled over the menu.

"Say something about exotic foods that'll stir up my appetite," I suggested to Ford, who's been to Japan to make "Teahouse of the August Moon" and goes to the South Seas soon to make another picture.

"Well," Ford ventured, with a half-grin, "the Japanese eat live shrimp. They're baby shrimps, really, and you stir them up, in a glass, get about 10 or 12 on a spoon . . . they're quite delicious."

"BUT THEY'RE LIVE?" I asked, just to make sure.

"Oh, yes, they're nice and wriggly," he nodded. "And after that you eat the basket they came in."

"Is that live too?" I inquired.

"No, that's made of some kind of grass, and it's fried . . . French-fried grass. You put salt on it, and with beer, it's good. Fried grasshoppers in Japan are also very good with beer."

"ANYTHING'S GOOD with beer or with catsup," I maintained. "But this business of eating things 'live'—we don't do that much, do we?"

Certainly! Americans are famous for one thing live that the Japanese wouldn't touch.

"What's that?" I asked dubiously.

"Goldfish!" he retorted.

Then I decided I must order SOMETHING to eat and I wanted to be sure that whatever it was, it was NOT live. Scrambled eggs and sausage seemed a proper choice, but when the dish arrived I only had a few tastes. I'm sure our little discussion of exotic foods had nothing to do with it, but my appetite had decreased instead of increasing.

"WHAT'LL YOU FEAST on in the South Seas?" I managed to ask Ford, who'll make "Don't Go Near the Water" there.

"I hear the monkey is of very good quality," he said.

Well, if they're serving monkey I don't want mine live—but on film.

And that's all I have to say on that subject, except that my friend Irving Hoffman, who recently checked in from Japan, tells me if I go there again I shouldn't miss one of their delicacies—fried bees.

THE HEAD OF this plumbing concern is an honest man. He and his partner worked hard to attain the success the company now enjoys. But the loss of thousands of dollars on merchandise which carries a small profit is hard to swallow, for either a small or large concern.

Many of the people against whose projects liens were filed were good friends of this plumbing concern. The owners are dismayed but helpless in their actions to regain some of the money lost to a glib talking individual who not only took the plumbing concern in, but as a contractor was dishonest with the owner of the building project.

SOL BERNSTEIN of the Model Plumbing Supply Company has proven to those who have come in contact with him that he is a man of great principle. He conducts his business the same way. He is sagacious, industrious and the father of two children. He and his partner since the end of World War II, in which both served valiantly, struggled against great odds to build the business from absolute scratch, one might say.

Invested right here in Palm Springs is approximately $500,000 in plant equipment and supplies. There is also a similar establishment in India and the main establishment in Los Angeles.

THIS COMPANY deserves support because it contributes greatly to the economy of this community. In a highly competitive business there are many plumbers who will tell you that the nationally known products stocked by this company cannot be bought for less anywhere.

It was Sol Bernstein with his implicit faith in the honesty of any individual until he finds out otherwise, who like others in this town, fell for this fast talking out-of-town plumbing contractor who left Palm Springs between two days.

Palm Vista Estates Are Complete In Every Detail, Ultimate in Luxury

Dramatic proof that Palm Springs' building boom shows no signs of abatement is the new Palm Vista Estates, a $3,000,000 luxury home development now being built on a 20-acre site rising above the Las Palmas Estates on Stevens Road.

Premier showing of the first completed home in this exclusive development has just been announced.

Reputed to be the highest priced development in desert resort history, its 20 acres have been divided into 19 lots by its builders, Monte Warshauer and I. (Rube) Rubin, who have formed the M & R Investment Co. to handle the vast undertaking. The homes will be in the $150,000 to $200,000 price range only and will have an average of 5,000 square feet.

CREDIT FOR generating Warshauer's original enthusiasm for this new concept in home building goes to Realtor George Gannon, the exclusive agent for the project.

Gannon had long foreseen the potentialities of this location. He was impressed with inspiring grandeur of the sights of centuries-old outcroppings of natural rock which rise from the base of majestic Mount San Jacinto.

HE FOUND THAT Warshauer and Rubin shared his thinking on the possible use of the natural surroundings, hitherto regarded as a building barrier because of its boulder-infested character, as a home building site. Whereas in the past developers had shied away from the awesome building problems involved in such a construction project, Gannon, Warshauer and co-owner Rubin felt that the rocky terrain could be made to serve as an integral and natural part of the structures.

ARCHITECT HOWARD Lapham and general contractor Thor Fredrickson were engaged to design and construct the first home after Warshauer and Rubin had unfolded their own ideas on how they wanted the structure to harmonize with and take full advantage of the natural rock knolls on which it was to be built.

Building was something of a challenge since the site was covered with huge boulders, deposited there by floods of millions of years ago. The force of the flood waters broke away pieces of the mountains above washing them down to where they are now embedded.

During these floods the waters coming from the hills above would be 15 to 20 feet deep. Smaller rocks were washed further down into the Village, since they traveled faster than the huge boulders, some of which weigh as much as two to six tons and are six to eight feet in diameter.

IN MAKING THE boulders work to the builders' advantage, cantilevered construction was used. Concrete piers, steel columns and beams and wooden girders enabled the builders to span those boulders which were too large and too heavy to move. Boulders moved were stockpiled and utilized in the landscaping motif of the property.

Among the outstanding features and innovations are the engineered type of construction that separates the house from the rocky terrain so that it literally floats in the air, picture framed glass walls of the living area that provide a spectacular panoramic desert vista in every direction, modern Chinese decor, master suites with generous wardrobes, dressing rooms and private sun terraces.

AND TERRAZZO Roman baths set in the midst of lush tropical plantings, custom built heavy brass fireplace hood pierced to allow lights to show Chinese Buddha on three faces, custom built formica and oriental ash sideboards with genuine mahogany doors, outdoor dining decks and a swimming pool fed by a man-made waterfall.

Each of the 19 homes planned for the project will, of course, vary in architectural design and quite different in the arrangement of rooms.

Rubin and Warshauer constantly watch the construction as it proceeds. Both pointed out that despite plans, occasionally certain features within or on the exterior of the homes, even when completed, may be pulled out and something more fitting be constructed. Cost apparently does not enter the picture but the ultimate in beauty and quality is the ruling factor.

STORAGE SPACE, clothes closets, the beds in built-in kitchen features add considerably to the luxurious way of life.

Paved streets, curbs and gutters are in, with each house sitting on an average of three-quarters of an acre of land.

Thousands upon thousands of tons of earth were moved to the home site areas for solid fill-in purposes making each home site gentle in slope or even.

Accessibility to each home site has and will play an important part in the development as it progresses.

BOTH RUBIN AND Warshauer are not strangers to the desert and Palm Springs. Both have been winter residents here for years and both men own homes in Palm Springs.

Architect Lapham provided for the extensive use of sliding glass doors and huge picture windows. His arrangement actually invites the outside in utilizing in the utmost the beauty of the desert and mountains scenes as one moves from one part of the house to another.

Each home when completed will have the advantage of sweeping vistas of Palm Springs and the desert as it stretches off into the distance.

ACTUALLY, IT IS believed, that Warshauer and Rubin were striving for achievement when this development, said to be the finest in Palm Springs, was conceived and planned.

A spokesman for both men said Palm Vista Estates is their concrete way of indicating their faith in the future of Palm Springs and the type of people who are coming to spend their days here.

Check for Doll Brings Arrest

A "suspicious looking" Whittier man was held today on suspicion of bouncing bogus checks in Palm Springs last night.

Thomas Headley, 26, admitted passing at least one fictitious $20 for purchase of a doll at the Doll House, Police said.

Headley and a friend, Marion Millich, of Los Angeles, were questioned by officers Robert Flavin and Matt Calac when the policemen spotted the two men strolling down Palm Canyon Drive at 3 a. m., today with a load of suitcases.

A desk clerk from a nearby hotel came out and told the officers Headley was a "suspicious character" who attempted to pass a check with him. Headley was booked on suspicion and Millich was released.

Around Town

with Hildy Crawford

The stars at night... were big and bright... over the Old Rodeo Grounds... as Jerri and Stewart Hopps entertained at a chuckwagon dinner Thursday night...

The foothills loomed black against the sky... and the music and laughter of the crowd that gathered around the blossoming bonfire... and the tables spread with red-and-white checked cloths... disturbed the ageless quiet of the desert... Around 60 guests... all in western clothes... were at the party...

... which honored Attorney General Bill Powers of Rhode Island... who is at the Racquet Club for his annual winter visit... It was in the tradition of early day Palm Springs parties... and lots of fun...

Everyone gathered at the Ranch Club for cocktails... before boarding three big wagons filled with hay... and heading for the hills... above Las Palmas... where the chuckwagons waited...

Housebound Villagers deserted their television sets long enough to see what all the hilarity was about... We startled traffic on Palm Canyon Drive... and Beachcomber patrons stared in astonishment... Mickey Finn was in the first wagon... and Ace Spriggins in the third wagon... making guitar music... and we left a trail of song as we rode along behind the plodding horses... We had Alice Faye, Phil Harris, Trav Rogers and Frank Bogert in our wagon... and pretty good harmony... The stars were bright overhead... and nearly everyone could identify The Big Dipper... and Bogert claimed he knew the Pleiades...

The ride wasn't too bumpy until we reached the place where the earth's torn up for George Alexander's new subdivision... From there on we were roughing it... but we could glimpse the bonfire ahead... and knew we'd make it...

Bing Crosby and Pete Pettito joined us by car... and Johnny Boyle arrived to reinforce the musicians... There was a steak dinner... and singing... and square dancing... and the party was still going strong... when we sneaked away by car around midnight...

The day's not too far off when the old Rodeo grounds will be a sedate subdivision... but we startled desert denizens Thursday night... In the big crowd were... Elsa and Bill Bassich, Harry Joe and Dorothy Brown, the Ed Rothbarts, Lester Seligs... Henry Untermyer (CBS veeep for Southern California), Claude Valeurs, Ethel Strebe, John Harrington, Mary Hurrell, Ed McCoubrey... Peggy and Dick Pollard, Joan Bering, Barbara Johnson, Manuel Alvarez, Jimmy Morton, John Morris... and lots more...

Charlie Farrell is in Honolulu with Uncle Ben Meyers... The two flew over for a 10-day stay... Fran Blish who's been in Indianapolis since December... writes that despite the cold, cold, gloomy winter... her visit has been well repaid... You can just call her "Grannie Fran" these days... as a boy, Peter Blish Straub... was born to Barbara and Peter G. Straub on January 9... and will be back at her Casa Contenta as soon after March 1 as she can make it... and anticipating, not only the sunny weather, but being with her sister and brother-in-law the Henry C. Tornations of Ottawa, Illinois... who are wintering at Coco Cabana...

Mr. and Mrs. "Mac" Kleet have returned to their home in Huntington Station New York after touring Southern California and other places. While in the Village they visited with the Ralph Weinsteins of 1067 Tachevah Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kuehn and family, former Villagers and now living in Bel-Air, are visiting Bob and Jean Davis of Desert Palms Drive.

Party Honors New Manager

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fey, owners of Desert Skies, hosted a cocktail party in the new Lanai Room to introduce the new Desert Skies manager Mrs. Mary Bishop. Mrs. Bishop was formerly with the Pueblo and before that was associated with the San Marcos, in Scottsdale, Arizona.

Among the guests, who included a number of hotel guests and hotel and apartment owners, were the Phil Levins, Edgar Schills, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jones, Mrs. Adele Colgan, Ralph Wilcox Taylor and Franklin McManus.

Desert Does Dinner Tuesday

Desert Does will enjoy a fashion show and Hawaiian entertainment after dinner at the Elks Lodge, Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. Members and their husbands are invited to attend, but reservations must be in by noon tomorrow. They may be made by calling 5709.

The fashion show is being planned by Verna Currie, with Desert Doe members participating. The Hawaiian dancing will be by Marta Scott dancers.

Playhouse To Present 'Skylark'

Herb Rogers will present "Skylark," the play by Samuel Raphaelson, at his Palm Springs Playhouse, opening Tuesday evening, February 26, following the run of "The Chalk Garden," which concludes Sunday evening, Feb. 24. Heading the cast of the show are Marrian Walters, John Crawford, Tim O'Connor, Phyllis Flax, Sidney Breese, Jack Clarke and Ray Gronwald. Michael Ferrall directs the production.

"Skylark" is a comedy which ran on Broadway some time ago, with the late Gertrude Lawrence in the starring role.

Action of "Skylark" revolves around an advertising man and his wife, with the husband becoming enamored of a lady houseguest in the same building. The couple plans to adopt a child in hopes of solidifying their marriage and other complications ensue.

Angelenos Wed Today In Village

Married in Palm Springs at the Community Church this afternoon were Vera A. Brown, psychologist, and Vincent Ives, film supervisor, both of Los Angeles. They said their vows before Dr. George Scherer, retired minister, of La Quinta.

The bride wore a gown of ice grey oriental material and design, made for her in Hong Kong, and a band of violets in her hair. Her attendant was Mrs. Rod Burnham of Palm Springs, and Dr. Viola Pettit-Neal, president of Biometric Research Foundation of Beverly Hills, was matron of honor.

Rod Burnham was best man and the groom was also attended by Robert Scott of Los Angeles. Sons of the bride, Bob Brown of Las Vegas, Donald Brown of Culver City, Tom Brown of Los Angeles, and a friend Ted Hanchett of Los Angeles, were ushers.

Lois Lux was organist for the wedding, and Mrs. John Williams directed the reception which followed the ceremony, and Begay and Karen Burnham passed the rice bags to the guests.

The Burnhams are entertaining the newlyweds at a champagne buffet supper at their home on Carey Road, this evening.

Festival To Present Favorites

Twenty-two living pictures and six sculptures—which one million patrons have voted as their favorites over a period of 10 years—will be presented nightly in one spectacular program at the 22nd Annual Laguna Beach Festival of Arts and Pageant of the Masters in the colorful setting of Irvine Bowl this summer from July 20 through August 18.

The Festival Board of Directors reached the decision of one Command Performance program after studying the vast number of comment cards signed by patrons at conclusion of each of the past 10 Pageants. In recent years the demand for Command Performance tickets was so great the box office was sold out weeks in advance of the opening night and the directors expect that each of the 30 nights this season will be sell-outs.

A full orchestra of 18 pieces will provide the musical background for the Pageant, with vocal and instrumental soloists enhancing the charm of many of the pictures. The first half of the program will be climaxed with the complete Bas Relief of the Albert Memorial which has been the greatest favorite whenever shown. Each night's Pageant will close with the presentation of the reverent and traditional "Last Supper" by Leonardo da Vinci.

Howard "Hap" Graham, who produced the highly successful 1955 Pageant, will serve in that capacity again this season, aided by an experienced staff of workers who are very familiar with the intricacies of presenting the colorful spectacle.

The world's heritage of great painting and sculpture comes to life under the stars with 200 men, women and children of Laguna Beach acting as models. Unique staging, costuming, lighting and make-up combine with orchestral music and dramatic commentary to produce a full evening's inspiring entertainment.

In keeping with the board of director's policy of constantly striving for the improvement of the Festival of Arts a new $45,000 restaurant will be built on an eminence affording a sweeping view of the grounds with its colorful array of booths in which artists and artisans display their handiwork. Additional restrooms are also under construction.

To Hear Story Of Berlin Youth

"Berlin Youth, between East and West" is the story which will be told in word and pictures at the meeting of the Missionary Society of the Palm Springs Community Church on Monday evening February 25 at 7:30 p.m. according to Mrs. Myron Persons, chairman of the group. German Bishop Diebelius invited Yolande and Sam Entz of Hollywood to establish youth centers for teenagers who came from refugee camps off the streets and even from behind the Iron Curtain. Mr. and Mrs. Entz will tell of a thrilling missionary experience on the world's greatest battlefield. Edward Lyman, tenor soloist accompanied by Mrs. William Lux will, present several songs.

The public is cordially invited. A low ceiling will appear higher when it is of a lighter color than the walls; when it is white tinted a little with the wall color; when wallpaper has vertical stripes or a vertical floral design reaching from the baseboard to the ceiling and if without border; when figured walls have plain draperies.

Dr. Spelman to Appear in Organ Recital at Redlands

Dr. Leslie P. Spelman's only public organ recital of the year in Redlands will take place February 25 at the University of Redlands.

Director of the university's school of music, Dr. Spelman is internationally known for his music activities. Playing in Memorial Chapel at 8:15 p.m., Dr. Spelman will feature "Litanies for the Black Virgin" for women's voices and organ by Poulenc and "Poem Heroique" by Dupre for six brass instruments, drums and organ.

The organ solos will include compositions by Clerambault, Frescobaldi and Bach. In addition, Dr. Spelman will play two new American compositions, "Noel en Trio" by Philippe Buhler, graduate student holding the Cadman award at the University of Redlands and "Fantasy on Riverton" by Dr. Seth Bingham of New York.

With the University of Redlands faculty since 1937, Dr. Spelman has won recognition for a wide variety of music activities. Last fall he received an invitation to lecture at the first International Congress of Organists to be held in London, England, in July.

An associate of the American Guild of Organists in 1927, Dr. Spelman was elected to fellow status in 1933. For several years he has served as a national examiner for the American Guild of Organists examinations.

Baptist Church To Start Here Sunday, March 3

The Rev. A. Keith Bauserman, pastor of the DHS Baptist church announced this week that the Desert Hot Springs church after repeated invitation will start regular worship services in the Plaza Theatre building in Palm Springs, beginning on March 3.

"With a high percentage of its support and constituency coming from the Palm Springs area, the invitation and call to relocate the church there is the fulfillment of a planned opportunity anticipated for many months," Rev. Bauserman says.

He added that everyone is welcome to the services of the Palm Springs Baptist church.

'Christ and Our Temptation' Is Sermon Topic

"Christ and our Temptation" will be the subject of the message which Dr. James H. Blackstone Jr. will bring at the duplicate morning worship services at the Community Church Sunday morning.

Sunday School sessions are held at both 9:30 and 11 a.m. There are classes of instruction for all age groups and a nursery for the care of small children during the 9:30 and 11 hours. A special play yard is provided for the larger children at 11 a.m.

A teacher meeting for all Sunday School teachers and superintendents will be held at 6. And the Christian Endeavor meetings for the Junior High and the High School young people is held at 6:15.

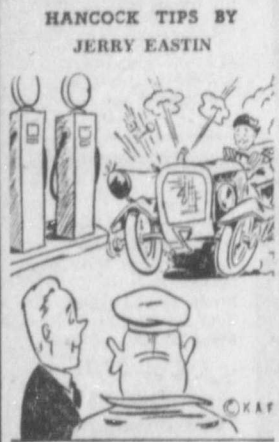

The evening service is held at 7 and this Sunday will be Youth night. The Junior Choir, The Choraleers, under the direction of Mrs. Lorna Little and Mrs. Jean Blackstone, will bring two special anthems. The Junior High and Senior High Young People will bring reports of their Winter Snow Conferences. A special invitation is extended to all.

'America for Christ' Selected

"America for Christ" will be the sermon topic by the Rev. Richard A. Uzzel at the First Baptist Church in Thermal next Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship.

Paul Miller will render a vocal solo, and the church choir under his direction will render, "The Lord's Prayer."

The Evening Worship at 7:30 p.m. will feature a hymn sing led by A. J. Wigginton, a violin solo by Jimmy Newell, and the sermon by the minister, "The Perpetual Light."

Dr. Irma Glen to Present Organ Concert and Sermon

Dr. Irma Glen, minister of the Church of Religious Science of Palm Springs, is a distinguished organist as well. For years she was a featured soloist on the NBC radio network and on the concert stage.

Each Sunday morning, at 10:45, Dr. Glen presents a fifteen minute organ recital as a prelude to the church service which is held at El Paseo Theatre. These programs are proving to be very popular and of interest to music and poetry lovers, as selections of philosophical and religious poems are used by Dr. Glen as introductions to the music.

The Sermon-Topic this Sunday will be "The Abundant Life." The Bible text is from Malachi: "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it."

In the "Science of Mind" text-book by Dr. Ernest Holmes, there is the following correlative passage: "I look at the lavish wastefulness of Nature and know that God intended me to be as abundantly supplied with everything that makes for beauty, well-being, progressive living and happiness."

Nothing but lack of faith can keep my good from me, for I am one with the Universal Essence of Life, or Spirit, and Its Substance will manifest in my experience as I believe. This day, as I turn to the father within, I bring all the "empty vessels," knowing they will be filled, and my abundance will become manifest."

Baptist Church To Hear Jones, Ex-Drug Addict

First Baptist church members will hear Kenneth Jones, Sunday evening at their 6:30 p.m. services. Jones, an ex-drug addict, will speak on "Youth and Narcotics" and refute the expression that there is no hope for the drug addict. Rev. Gordon Gilbert, pastor, states the public is cordially invited.

Wednesday, Feb. 20, the First Baptist church had Dr. Howard Freas, missionary to the Belgian Congo, speak at the church. Dr. Freas is under appointment by the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society, and has been honored by the King of Belgium for notable medical services to the people of Belgian Congo, Africa.

Harrell Rites Held Saturday

Mass was held today for Florence Moore Harrell, 47, 2619 Anza Trail, who died Thursday at Desert Hospital following a lingering illness.

A native of Illinois, she was a resident of Palm Springs and California for two and a half years. Sue is survived by her husband, James N. Harrell.

Following Rosary Friday, Mass was recited by Father Michael O'Donohue, pastor of St. Theresa Catholic Church.

Interment will be in the new Palm Springs Cemetery, with Wiefels and Son Mortuary in charge.

A fully charged storage battery will not freeze up and break.

Caroline Lewis Succumbs Today

Caroline Lewis, 66, was pronounced dead at Desert Hospital early this morning after a State Division of Forestry resuscitator worked for about an hour to revive her.

Mrs. Lewis suffered an attack at 4:46 a.m., and within minutes the resuscitator and ambulance was standing by. She was pronounced dead at 5:47.

She is survived by her husband Dura B. Lewis, and a son who lives in Los Angeles. They lived at 34-681 Eagle Canyon Drive, Cathedral City.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Wiefels and Son Mortuary.

Situation Today No Worse Than in 1781, Rotary Told

There was a greater clash of opinion among the American Colonies between 1781 and 1789 than there is between the nations of the world today—and the problems were almost as serious. There was the constant prospect of war. In 1782 there wasn't a dollar in the U. S. Treasury—the national government couldn't collect taxes.

This situation, known as "the lost years in American history" was described to Rotarians at their meeting this week by Glenn Snyder, assistant to the president of Redlands University. He told how representatives to the Constitutional Convention fought for four months over the issues, but were held together by the bond of freedom. He gave much credit to George Washington for holding factions in line.

Snyder told the Rotarians that world problems of today can also be solved through a sincere desire to maintain peace. The basic problems are really no greater now than then, he said.

Will Rogers, the cowboy philosopher, was married at Rogers, Ark.

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE

By HAL WOOD
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK (UP)—Fearless Frayley's facts and figures:
Gypsy Rose Lee, who is talented no matter how you look at her, today received an award as "Fish-erwoman Of The Year" and dis- closed a good word if you know Gypsy that her favorite fishing is for salmon and muskie.

"I'm thrilled," she said, "to be honored for something with all my clothes on."

"What weight string, er, ah, line, do you prefer?" she was asked.
"I use various weights," was her answer, "and I've been handed so many lines in my day I find a great delight in tossing them out for a change."

YOU CAN'T ACCUSE Grady Wallace of South Carolina, one of the leaders in the race for national basketball scoring honors, with being a "homer." His average is better on the road than it is at home and his two best efforts were in away games—54 points against Georgia and 45 against North Carolina state.

What's this about football play- ers being muscle-bound meat- heads? Dave Middleton, the De- troit Lions' leading pass receiver, is a medical student at Tennessee. And their Bill Glass, 235-pound Baylor guard, is studying for a ministerial career. Considering the "dirty football" charges, the league could use him right now.

KEEP YOUR EYE on the first time starters when the U.S. Open is held at Inverness Club, Toledo, Ohio, in June. When the Open was held there in 1950, the Ben Hogans and Sam Sneads of that era were Ted Ray, Harry Vardon, Walter Hagen and Francis Ouimet. Two kids making their first open start were a couple of youngsters named Bobby Jones and Gene Sa- razen.

Harvie Ward, the two-time Na- tional Amateur golf champion, vows that he'll never ask Geor- gia's Dynamite Goodloe for ad- vice. In one match in 1950, Har- vie was eight down when Goodloe slapped him on the back and said: "Things could be tougher, Harv. Why, once I was on the tenth tee and nine down."

"What happened?" Ward asked. "Oh," Goodloe replied casually, "I shanked the next one!"

Blue Sox Lose to Riversiders 50-44

Palm Springs Blue Sox, third in the recent city basketball league, were eliminated from the two county basketball tournament now under way, Friday night by a strong Riverside All Star team, 50 to 44.

The Riversiders are favored to take the tournament.

First round games in the conso- lation bracket of the tournament are scheduled for next Tuesday night.

Laurye's Steak Ranch, ousted in the first round of championship play Wednesday, will meet the Viking team of Indio on the high school floor here. The Blue Sox go to Indio to meet the American Legion team of that city Tuesday night.

Basilio Seeks Middle Crown

Wants Shot at Sugar Ray or Gene Fullmer

Flattens Saxton in Second Round of TV Title Battle

CLEVELAND (UP)—Carmen Ba- silio, the snarling tiger man who flattened Johnny Saxton with per- haps the fastest knockout in wel- terweight title history Friday night, challenged today for the middleweight crown.

"I want a shot at the winner of the Gene Fullmer-Ray Robinson fight," announced the fiery slug- ger who staggered Saxton a dozen times and smashed him to the canvas with a booming left hook for a knockout at 2:42 of the sec- ond round before 8,514 at Cleve- land Arena, in their title "rubber match."

About $48,000 richer for less than six minutes of work, the champion from Chittanooga, N. Y., sought "a real big-money fight" outdoors in May with middle weight ruler Fullmer or Sugar Ray, who are slated for a title bout at Chicago Stadium, April 24.

MEANWHILE, CARMEN was offered a guarantee of $75,000 for a defense of his own 147-pound bonnet against the winner of next Tuesday's fight at Newark, N. J., between Vince Martinez and ex- champion Kid Gavilan.

Craggy-faced Basilio's kayo of streamlined Saxton in their third encounter was not the fastest in welter title history, for Jimray McLarnin belted out Young Cor-bett, the third, at 2:37 of the first round on May 30, 1933 at Los An- geles.

Basilio, 29, was snarling and grim-faced as he tore after Sax- ton at the opening bell. Saxton, 26-year-old New Yorker, had wrested the title from him on a questionable decision at Chicago last March, and lost the title back to him on a ninth-round TKO at Syracuse, N. Y., last September.

"Saxton promised to make a running fight against me last night," the champion explained. "And I know he was out to louse me up—even if he didn't beat me. So I went after him, and kept right on top of him, and caught up with him every time I got the chance. And I put him away in a hurry."

CARMEN'S LEFT HOOKS to body and head did most of the damage in the abbreviated pur- suit race; but he threw his pre- viously bruised right fist effec- tively several times. And the champ said today, "My right hand isn't a bit sore. It stood up okay." Basilio was so thankful for his impressive victory that he dropped to his knees in mid-ring, while Saxton's handlers were half-car- rying Johnny to his corner, and said a two-minute prayer of gra- titude.

It was Carmen's 50th victory in 69 bouts and his 24th knockout. He went into the ring favored at 17-5 and it was the most impres- sive triumph of his career.

BETTOR FINDS WAY TO BEAT THE RACES

BOWIE, Md. (UP)—A race track goer tried out a new system at Bowie race track Friday and took home $4,300.

He slipped by several guards and entered a mutual booth. Then he pressed a hard object against a teller's back and as he pocketed a package of bills he whispered:

"Don't holler. I'm taking this."

THIS IS NOT THE YEAR FOR INDIAN ATHLETES

By LINDSAY NIELSON

Athletic contests at the high school are at a much slower pace this year than that of the 1956 season. Thursday the Indians played their last actual spec- tator sport and finished the 1957 basketball season in fifth place with which they are going to have to be content.

Last year the Warriors had the best year in sports that they have ever enjoyed. They captured three championships for the Village as well as two third places, one in basketball and the other in foot- ball, not to mention the second place in track in which Coachella seemed to have the slight edge in depth on the Indians.

THE THREE CHAMPIONSHIPS came in basketball, Varsity swim- ming, and boys' tennis. Actually the biggest splash was that made by Ralph Watt's cagers which will undoubtedly become an epic to the school. They touted a 67-point game average as to the 47.8 point average of this year. Of course they helped considerably with the game average of 27 dig- its which Charley Jordan, so hand- ily contributed and in so doing established a new high for one game individual scoring, 47 points.

Then came the brilliant one- point victory by the tankmen of the school in the final CBL meet. And probably the happiest victory for all, the tennis crown.

THE LACK of a championship squad this year is definitely changing the attitude and morale of the entire student body. Last year two and three bus loads of students were always at the games; this year not even one bus load could be obtained the en- tire casba season.

Actually many games were lost that definitely should have been won. Six games this year placed in the "two-point jinx category." Not only that but the Indians can also attribute their poor showing at the foul line for all of the seven losses.

It has been noticed that there was a completely different form of basketball played this year than last, but then they won the RCL championship.

ONE PERSON that was never mentioned the entire season, yet has brought an unprecedented championship to the school is George Scholl, with whom the re- sponsibility for "Cee and Dee" basketball rested.

School brought the Warriors their first championship in Cee basketball in seven years, and their first victory in three years. Scholl also coaches Varsity base- ball, and is looking forward to a great season with the help of the possible All-RCL John Warren.

Swimming, track, tennis, both boys and girls, and baseball are all getting underway at PSHS. As far as the two sports just finished there is only one thing to say, and that is the fam- ous Brooklyn Dodger chant—"Wait 'till next year!"

Larsen, Kucks Still Unsigned Deadline Day

Both Expected in Camp to Continue Salary Negotiations

By UNITED PRESS

Don Larsen and Johnny Kucks, two of the New York Yankees' world series pitching heroes, will officially become holdouts unless they sign Saturday before the world champions begin practicing to bid for their eighth American League pennant in the last nine years.

Kucks, who shut out the Dodgers in the decisive seventh 1956 series game after compiling an 18-9 regu- lar season record, is in camp and may sign today or Sunday. Larsen, who pitched the first perfect game in series history last fall, is sched- uled to arrive today to continue his tussle for a salary nearly dou- ble the $12,000 he received in 1956.

Art Ditmar and Bobby Shantz, two pitchers the Yankees obtained from the Kansas City Athletics in Tuesday's 13-man deal, arrived in camp Friday. Ditmar signed for an estimated $16,000. Shantz pre- viously had agreed to terms.

Roy Campanella, Brooklyn catcher who slumped to .219 last season when his injured right hand hampered him, took his first 1957 swings with the bat Friday and said they indicated good news for himself and the Dodgers.

Infielder Bobby Avila and pitch- er Early Wynn, who had a 20-9 record last season, came to terms with the Indians.

At Mesa, Ariz., the Chicago Cubs announced Vito Valentineti, righthanded relief pitcher, had ac- cepted his contract terms.

Gary Geiger, a pitcher whom the St. Louis Cardinals probably will switch to another position to make more use of his hitting abil- ity, played first base Friday and starred in a squad game at the club's St. Petersburg, Fla., base.

Nominate 147 for Belmont Stakes

NEW YORK (UP)—A total of 147 nominations for the 89th running of the $100,000 Added Belmont Stakes June 15 was announced to- day, with the best of last season's juveniles and the current stars of winter racing eligible for the third of the triple crown classics.

The Kentucky Derby will be staged at Churchill Downs May 4, followed by the Preakness Stakes at Pimlico May 18.

There are 25 stakes winners on the list, headed by Calumet Farm's Barbizon, the 1956 juvenile champion and Wheatley's Stable Bold Ruler.

Rosewall Going After Third Straight Win Over Gonzales

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Youthful Ken Rosewall, the Australian challenger, seeks his third consecutive win over powerful rival Pancho Gonzales tonight when Jack Kramer's traveling tennis professionals wind up a two night stand at Pan Pacific Auditorium.

Rosewall, who recently decided to play for money instead of trophies, made short work of the veteran Gonzales Friday night be- fore a packed house of 6,000 fans. He turned back Gonzales in two straight sets, 6-4, 6-3.

The win moved Rosewall within three victories of catching Gon- zales who got off to a whirlwind start in this season's pro tour. Gonzales has defeated Rosewall nine times while the Australian has managed to win in six starts.

Rosewall last night played one of the best games of his tennis career. He broke Gonzales' shot- gun serve twice in the first set. Then in the fourth game of the second set he thrilled fans by re- turning one of his opponent's famed overhead smashes that would have put Gonzales in com- mand.

Gonzales said after the match that he wasn't satisfied with his performance. However, the lanky Californian admitted he was just outplayed by the inspired Aus- tralian.

Gonzales, who was bothered last week by an old hand injury, said "my hand is giving me no trouble now at all. I feel in good shape."

Another Pancho, Pancho Segura, defeated Australian Dinny Pails in

Landy Through With Competition

MELBOURNE, Australia (UP)— World champion miler John Landy today announced his retirement from major athletic competition. "I've had it," gasped Landy after finishing second to Geoff Fleming in an 880-yard club event at Olympic Park.

Landy holds the world record in the mile event with the time of 3:58 minutes set at Turku, Fin- land, June 21, 1954.

Fleming beat Landy by two yards today. Landy was clocked in 1:38.4 minutes which experts considered satisfactory in that it was only his second race since the Olympics.

But the lanky miler, dripping with perspiration, said he was through with major competition.

One Big Cheese Would Feed City Of Dayton, Ohio

CHICAGO (AP)—The world's largest piece of cheese recently was hauled from Green Bay, Wis., to Dayton, Ohio, a trucking firm reported.

Interstate Dispatch Inc., said it transported the 13,800-pound chunk to the supermarket in Dayton for its annual Lenten cheese sale.

The cheese, in a huge wooden tub, stood nearly eight feet high and was seven feet in diameter. It was made from more than 148,000 pounds of milk furnished by more than 7,800 cows.

The trucking firm estimated that the gargantuan cheese would supply a sandwich for every man, woman and child in Dayton.

Five File for Election to Three Posts On Desert Hot Springs Water District

Herb Ecclestone, president of the board, is the only incumbent filing for reelection to the Desert Hot Springs County Water District whose terms expire this year. Frank Kibby and Stone Wright Jr., are the other members whose terms expire and neither is filing for re-election. Five petitions are out including Ecclestone's.

PETITIONS ARE being filed for Dr. James Compton, Jim Harris, Frank Cazad, Aaron Galvin and Ecclestone. Deadline for filing the petitions is next Monday, Feb. 25, and the election is March 26. Mrs. Millie Blair, secretary, reports another five seeking a petition must go to Riverside for it since only five were sent to the board by county election officials.

DIRECTORS OF THE Desert Hot Springs Water district have administered a doubling of their assets in the last three years, according to their latest financial statement. Assets have been built to include $491,123—including a utility plant valued at $419,110. New water lines built by subdividers are valued at $196,463. Profits are rising at a rate indicating there will be no problem in paying off an original $250,000 bond issue voted in 1953. For the last six months of 1956 profits were $18,976, compared with $7,053 for a similar period in 1955.

TWENTY-FOUR annexations have been made in less than three years, and now directors have voted to go into new territory south-east of Desert Hot Springs where Louis Malcheff, spokesman for West Coast Building Specialists of Los Angeles indicated 180 houses will be built on 45 acres of land—if annexation can be arranged through enough land being annexed to the district.

Melcheff said another 120 houses would be built later on a 40-acre tract. SUPT. DEWEY CARSON said a new and separate system should be built to the Los Angeles Company's property because it is so far removed from the district's present lines. The company would be expected to pay $100 an acre fee for joining the district and to install cement asbestos distribution pipes and give them to the district. The district would apply the cost of drilling a well to the $100-per-acre fee if the company would provide the well. Development in this direction has been such that the directors felt a move in this direction justified.

Family spending for food increased about 25 per cent per household between 1948 and 1955, while retail food prices increased only 6.5 per cent, according to a national survey by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Scouts Win Fair Award

Members of Palm Springs Girl Scout Troop 3 have captured a second-place blue ribbon in Indio's Riverside County Fair and National Date Festival. The Scouts won the ribbon at the Scouting building with their exhibit of "grandma's pantry," containing items which every homeowner should have on hand in case of disaster.

The pantry was based on a Civil Defense pamphlet listing emergency household requirements. Every minute of a day 105,000 gallons of gasoline is used in the United States, the National Automobile Club estimates.

UJA Cocktail Party Slated at Robbin Residence

Plans have been completed for the invitational cocktail party to be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Robbins, 1129 East Alejo Road, as the opening event in the Palm Springs United Jewish Appeal Drive, according to A. L. Levin and Stanley Rosin, co-chairmen of the advance gifts committee.

Pointing to the desperate plight of 21,000 Jews who recently have been ordered out of Egypt, Max Grone and Henry Birns, co-chairmen of the local campaign, today called for swift and generous backing to the UJA's Emergency Rescue Fund to finance a "freedom lift" for these refugee Jews being exiled by Nasser.

Help also must be given to 12,000 Hungarian Jewish men, women and children who are among the 130,000 Hungarians now behind barbed wire "freedom camps" in Austria, they said. "As Americans we have a responsibility to see that all Hungarian refugees—Jewish and non-Jewish—be given a chance to build new lives in the free countries of the world," Grone said. "Confronted with the severity of current needs," he continued, "our community must commit itself to the maximum possible support for UJA's life-saving efforts. Thousands of new refugees are looking to us. We dare not let them down."

Marion Schwartz, chairman of the Women's Division, is working with her committee members to arrange for the community dinner on March 3.
